FINANCING YOUR CHILD'S COLLEGE EDUCATION

Join Senator Deb Cherry in Grand Blanc on September 15th to discuss strategies for saving and paying for college

(LANSING)—State Senator Deb Cherry (D-Burton) will be holding a community seminar on the topic of “Financing Your Child’s College Education” on Monday, September 15, 2003. Presentations will be given by representatives from the Michigan Education Trust (MET), the Michigan Education Savings Program (MESP), and a financial aid representative from the University of Michigan – Flint.

“Financing a college education is challenging in today’s economic climate,” said Cherry. “It is important for families to know what options are available to them and how to begin planning and saving now for their child’s future. This seminar will provide parents and students the opportunity to gather information and get questions answered about the best ways to save for college.”

Specifics about the meeting are as follows:
